

THE INSIDE STORY

Allegheny County Shares Urban Lessons at Brookings Institution Urban Summit in Italy

In July 2007, Allegheny County Executive Dan Onorato participated in an urban summit sponsored by the Brookings Institution and Rockefeller Foundation in Milan, Italy. Government and business leaders from New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, Seattle, Detroit, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Washington, Berlin and Brussels also participated in the summit.

In February 2006, Onorato served as a panel member with four other county executives at a Brookings Institution symposium on the challenges and assets of “first-ring” and older suburbs around major urban centers.
