

THE INSIDE STORY

First LEED Gold Certified Arena in NHL

In April 2009, the Pittsburgh Penguins and the Sports & Exhibition Authority announced that they are working to achieve LEED Gold Certification at the new Consol Energy Center. It would be the first National Hockey League arena to be LEED Gold. The arena will seat approximately 18,500 hockey fans and construction is expected to be complete in August 2010.

Contact: Tom McMillan 412-642-1828